

Aiken County recycling disrupted by November fire at North Augusta facility

Description

The large Nov. 25 fire at the North Augusta's Materials Recovery Recycling Facility has disrupted Aiken County's recycling operations, and County Administrator Clay Killian doesn't know when things will be back to normal. Recyclables such as plastic bottles, aluminum cans, cardboard, magazines and newspapers that people have taken to the county's Recycling Drop-Off Centers now are being transported to the Three Rivers Waste Authority Regional Landfill at the Savannah River Site instead of North Augusta.

Read the full article at: www.postandcourier.com

Category

1. TheCircularEconomy.com

Date Created

December 19, 2021

Author

thecirculareconomyteam

default watermark