

All households in Victoria will be forced to sort their waste into FOUR bins by 2030
| Daily

Description

All Victorian households will have to sort their waste into four separate bins by 2030, under new laws to be introduced to state parliament. The Circular Economy (Waste Reduction and Recycling) Bill, to be introduced on Wednesday, will establish Recycling Victoria, which will oversee and regulate the state's recycling sector from July 2022. The body, which will be a part of the Department of Environment, Land, Water and Planning, will oversee the transition of all local councils to the four-bin system by 2030, as well as a container deposit scheme from 2023.
